Colleagues,

Happy new year! Hopefully you have had (or are continuing to have) a restful and happy holiday break. I didn't do a single work-related thing the entire time, and I needed that mental rest to help me feel excited and rejuvenated about this upcoming spring semester.

The very best thing about spring semester, in my opinion, is the opportunity to attend the annual NOSS conference. There is just no other conference like it! When I go to the NOSS conference, I feel like I am coming home to my people. In a world that seems to make us each feel more isolated, that feeling is an absolute relief.

This year's conference will be March 2-5, 2023, at the beautiful Gaylord Opryland Resort and Convention Center in Nashville, TN.

We have over 140 concurrent sessions scheduled where you can hear educators across the country and world discuss exciting things happening in the field of student success. We have an excellent keynote speaker, Dr. Kyle Reyes, who will inspire us with his presentation called "Lenses of Humanity: Changing How We See Students to Show up Better for Students." We also have a pre-conference Leadership Summit scheduled, geared toward both emerging and experienced leaders in the field.

Now is the time to register. We want to see you there! Early registration (with a discount!!) ends January 19.

If you have specific questions about the annual conference, please reach out to our wonderful NOSS Conference Manager, Annette Cook, at acook@thenoss.org.
